

Peter G. L. Leach (Πανεπιστήμιο Κύπρου)

Title: Applications of Lie point Symmetries to the Resolution of some Problems arising in Financial Mathematics.

Abstract

Many of the partial differential equations which arise in Financial Mathematics are rich in point symmetry. These symmetries provide an algorithmic route to the solution of the usual terminal condition problem and enable one to avoid making unsupported Ansatzes for the structure of the solution. The process is illustrated with several typical examples.